TIPS TO PONDER

The difference between Jams, Preserves, Jellies, and Fruit Spreads

Jams are made with mashed fruits, sugar and they sometimes have added pectin

Preserves are made with whole fruit or coarse pieces, sugar and usually pectin.

Fruit Spreads (or spreadable fruit) are 100% fruit with no sugar added, although they usually have added pectin.

Jellies are made from strained fruit juice, sugar and sometimes pectin. Jellies have a clear, shimmery appearance.
